The program enables you to create Photoshop-compatible JPEG and TIFF files and convert files between the two formats. You can also create Flash GIF files. You can combine image layers and apply filters and layer masks to produce original creations such as 3-D cartoons or watercolors. As an alternative to using Adobe's program, you can use Paint Shop Pro as an inexpensive image-editing tool. The feature set is similar but has fewer options for some features, such as specific adjustment layers, where you can select how an adjustment is applied. Bovine dentine matrix protein-1: cDNA cloning and expression. We describe the cloning of the cDNA encoding bovine dentine matrix protein-1 (DMP1), a previously isolated protein of bovine tooth matrix and testes that binds to Ca²⁺. The cDNA consists of 1233 nucleotides encoding a putative protein of 369 amino acids (35 kDa). The bovine DMP1 showed 72.8% amino acid sequence identity to human DMP1. A consensus sequence for the putative zinc finger motif (CX₂CX₄CX₂C) was found in the carboxyl-terminal region of bovine DMP1. The cDNA library of rat incisor was screened for DMP1 cDNA by hybrid selection with bovine DMP1 cDNA probes. The partially purified protein was detected in the protein extracts of the denaturated whole rat incisor, suggesting that the rat DMP1 may have the same function as the bovine DMP1.
